Content :	Article 1 These Standards are stipulated in accordance with the provisions of Paragraph 2 of Article 27 of the Compulsory Automobile Liability Insurance Act (hereinafter referred to as "this Act"). Except for Paragraph 6 of Article 2, these standards shall apply mutatis mutandis to the compensation by the Motor Vehicle Accident Compensation Fund (hereinafter the Compensation Fund) subject to this Act. Article 2 The Insurer shall pay personal injury medical expense benefits only for necessary and reasonable relevant medical expenses actually incurred to the injured party in respect of his/her bodily injury suffered in an automobile traffic accident. The total of personal injury medical expense benefits is limited to NT$200,000 per person in any one accident. The relevant medical expenses referred to in the preceding paragraph shall cover the following expenses:

1. "First-aid expense" means the expense for salvage search, ambulance and ambulance staff.
2. "Expense for medical treatment" means:
  - (1) The injured party receives the National Health Insurance coverage:
    - A: The payment subject to the National Health Insurance Act and the related beneficiaries expenses paid by the injured party.
    - B: The Non National Health Insurance Payment : Only for ward expense, registration fee, medical certificate fee, meal expense, deductible expense for material and installation of artificial limbs, teeth and eyes paid by the injured party, and any other expenses for medical material (supplementary equipments included) and other protective tools necessary certified by medical doctors.
  - (2) The injured party doesn't receive the National Health Insurance coverage: The medical treatment expense can't exceed the emergency expense, the average day payment of clinic or hospital standard regulated in the Regulations for NHI Reimbursement of the Self-advanced Medical Expenses. If the injured party can provide the whole medical expense fits the National Health Insurance items and standards, all the medical expenses shall apply mutatis mutandis to the NHI Payment Standards.
3. "Transportation expense" means the reasonable transportation expense for round-trip, transfer, or leave from a qualified hospital or clinic.
4. "Nursing expense" means the expense for special nursing or nursing in hospitalization due to severe bodily injuries. But the necessity for home nursing must be certified by a qualified medical doctor.

The payment of expense for medical treatment referred to in subparagraph 2 of the preceding paragraph is limited as follows:

1. Deductible for ward expense: It means the injured party received hospitalization in a qualified hospital or clinic, and a ceiling of NT$1,500 per day.
2. Meal expense: It means the injured party received hospitalization in the former subparagraph, and a ceiling of NT$180 per day.
