7. Other foreign currency business related to securities approved by the competent authorities.

The term, "financial institutions within the territory of the ROC" as used in any subparagraph of the preceding paragraph shall mean any financial institution approved by the CBC to engage in foreign exchange business or any offshore securities branch established in accordance with this Act.

Article 22- 5 An offshore securities branch may designate another branch of the same securities firm that has been authorized by the CBC to conduct foreign exchange business (the "designated branch") to handle the business activities set out in paragraph 1 of the preceding Article. The business handled by the designated branch shall be booked on the account books of the offshore securities branch.

The scope of business that the designated branch may handle includes cross-strait securities business approved by the competent authorities in accordance with the Act Governing Relations between the People of the Taiwan Area and the Mainland Area. The control and supervision of such activities shall be handled in accordance with the regulations related to cross-strait securities business. The offshore securities branch shall coordinate and be responsible for such control and supervision.

If the designated branch charges the offshore securities branch reasonable fees for handling any of the offshore securities branch's activities in order to pay for operating expenses, such revenue shall be booked as the designated branch's income and be duly subject to taxation. If the designated branch does not charge the offshore securities branch any such fees, the expenses for handling the offshore securities branch's businesses may not be booked as expenses.

Article 22- 6 Unless otherwise provided in this Act, the conducting by an offshore securities branch of the business specified in the subparagraphs of Article 22-4, paragraph 1, shall not be subject to the restrictions in relevant articles of the Foreign Exchange Control Act, the Securities and Exchange Act, the Trust Enterprise Act, the Securities Investment Trust and Consulting Act, and the Futures Trading Act. The FSC, in consultation with the CBC, shall adopt regulations for offshore securities branches concerning finances, businesses, utilization of funds, risk management, time limit on and total balance of interbank call loans or financing obtained from other financial institutions, the handling of trading across foreign currencies with designated foreign exchange banks, offshore banking branches, or offshore financial institutions, and other matters requiring compliance.

Article 22- 7 Income from offshore securities business operated by offshore securities branches shall be exempt from business income tax. However, income from conducting business in the subparagraphs of Article 22-4, paragraph 1 with natural persons, juristic persons, government agencies, or financial institutions within the territory of the ROC shall be subject to taxation or exemption as specified in the Income Tax Act. Sales revenue from offshore securities business operated by offshore securities branches shall be exempt from business tax. However, sales revenue from sales to natural persons, juristic persons, government agencies, or financial institutions within the territory of the ROC shall be subject to taxation or exemption as specified in the Value-Added and Non-Value-Added Business Tax Act.

All types of certificates used in offshore securities business operated by offshore securities branches shall be exempt from stamp tax. However, certificates issued in connection with transactions with natural persons, juristic persons, government agencies, or financial institutions within the territory of the R.O.C or with respect to business activities other than those specified in the subparagraphs of Article 22-4, paragraph 1, shall be subject to taxation or exemption as specified in the Stamp Tax Act.

Interest paid in offshore securities business operated by offshore securities branches, to financial institutions, natural persons, juristic persons, and government agencies outside the territory of the ROC and income derived from structured product transactions, shall be exempt from income tax withholding.

The exemptions from business income tax, business tax, and stamp tax, and exemption from income tax withholding, under the preceding four paragraphs, shall be in force for a period of 15 years from the effective date of this Article.

Article 22- 8 Articles 8 to 10, 18 to 20, and 21-1 shall apply mutatis mutandis to offshore securities business operated by offshore securities branches.

Article 22- 9 If an offshore securities branch commits any of the following acts, the competent authorities may, depending on severity of the offense, impose a warning, order the securities firm to remove its directors, supervisors, or managerial officers from their positions, suspend all or a part of the business operated by the head office or branch office for not longer than 6 months, or void or revoke the business license of the head office or branch office:

1. Conducting any business other than that specified in Article 22-4, paragraph 1.

2. Violating Article 8 or 9 applied mutatis mutandis under Article 22-8.

3. Violating provisions of the regulations adopted under Article 22-6, paragraph 2, concerning finances, businesses, utilization of funds, risk management, time limit on and total balance of interbank call loans or financing obtained from other financial institutions, or the handling of trading across foreign currencies with designated foreign exchange banks, offshore banking branches, or offshore financial institutions.

If any director, supervisor, or employee of a securities firm is found to have committed any act which violates this Act or another related act or regulation, and if such violation may affect the normal operation of offshore securities business, the competent authority, in addition to ordering the said securities firm to suspend business operation of such person for not more than 1 year or discharge such person at any time, may also impose sanctions set out in the preceding paragraph depending on the severity of the violation.

Article 22-10 Anyone who counterfeits, alters, destroys, conceals, or obscures working papers or relevant records or documents with intent to impede inspection of the offshore securities branch by the competent authorities or investigation of the offshore securities branch by a judicial agency shall be punished with imprisonment for not less than 1 year and not more than 7 years and in addition thereto a criminal fine of not more than NT$20 million may be imposed.

Article 22-11 An offshore securities branch that fails to file with the competent authority for recordation, or to provide information concerning the business or financial condition or other reports, or to report to the FSC for approval and notify the CBC, under Articles 20 or 21-1 as applied mutatis mutandis under Article 22-8, shall be fined an administrative fine of not less than NT$240,000 and not more than NT$2.4 million.

In addition to imposing an administrative fine under the preceding paragraph, the competent authorities also shall order the person to comply within a specified time period; if the person fails to comply within the specified period, the competent authorities may order a new period for compliance and impose additional administrative fines of not less than NT$480,000 and not more than NT$4.8 million for each successive failure to comply until corrective action has been taken.

For violations under the preceding two paragraphs, the individual person responsible for the act will be punished.

Chapter III-1 Insurance Enterprises

Chapter 3-1 Insurance Enterprises

Article 22-12

The following insurance enterprises may, through their head offices, apply to the competent authorities for a license to establish an offshore insurance branch within the ROC with independent accounting to conduct offshore insurance business:

1. Insurance enterprises approved by the FSC to engage in insurance business within the ROC.
2. Foreign insurance enterprises approved by the FSC to engage in insurance business within the ROC.

The term "insurance enterprises" referred to in the preceding paragraph shall mean non-life insurance enterprises, life insurance enterprises and professional reinsurances.

An offshore insurance branch established pursuant to paragraph 1 hereof shall allocate working capital for its operations. The minimum amount of the working capital shall be set by the FSC.

Article 22-13

An offshore insurance branch may only conduct the following types of business:

1. The following types of foreign currency denominated insurance business:
 - (1) Personal insurance business where the applicant is a natural person, a juristic person, a government agency, or a financial institution outside the territory of the ROC and the insured is a natural person outside the territory of the ROC.
 - (2) Non-life insurance business where the applicant is a natural person, a juristic person, a government agency, or a financial institution outside the territory of the ROC and the subject matter insured is not a real property situated within the territory of the ROC.
2. Foreign currency denominated reinsurance business with insurance enterprises outside the territory of the ROC.
3. Other foreign currency denominated insurance-related businesses serving natural persons, juristic persons, government agencies, or financial institutions outside the territory of the ROC and approved by the competent authorities.

When an offshore insurance branch conducts the business mentioned in the preceding paragraph, it may not conduct concurrently non-life insurance and life insurance businesses, except where its head office is a non-life insurance enterprise that has been approved by the FSC to engage in injury insurance and health insurance.

Article 22-14

An offshore insurance branch may designate the head office of the same insurance enterprise or a branch of the same foreign insurance enterprise established inside the territory of the ROC that has been authorized by the CBC to conduct insurance-related foreign exchange business (the "designated branch") to handle the business activities set out in paragraph 1 of the preceding Article. The business handled by the designated branch shall be booked on the account books of the offshore insurance branch.

The scope of business that the designated branch may handle includes cross-strait insurance business approved by the competent authorities in accordance with the Act Governing Relations between the People of the Taiwan Area and the Mainland Area. The control and supervision of such activities shall be handled in accordance with the regulations related to cross-strait insurance business. The offshore insurance branch shall coordinate and be responsible for such control and supervision.

If the designated branch charges the offshore insurance branch reasonable fees for handling any of the offshore insurance branch's activities to pay for its operating expenses, such revenue shall be booked as the designated branch's income and be duly subject to taxation. If the designated branch does not charge the offshore insurance branch any such fees, the expenses for handling the offshore insurance branch's businesses may not be booked as expenses.

Article 22-15

Unless otherwise provided in this Act, the conducting of businesses specified under the subparagraphs of paragraph 1, Article 22-13 herein by an offshore insurance branch is not subject to the restrictions in relevant articles of the Foreign Exchange Control Act and the Insurance Act.

The FSC, in consultation with the CBC, shall adopt regulations for the business of offshore insurance branches concerning finances, businesses, utilization of funds, risk management, inspections by the competent authorities or other appropriate institutions or experienced professionals mandated thereby, and other matters requiring compliance.

Article 22-16

Income from offshore insurance business operated by offshore insurance branches shall be exempt from business income tax. However, income derived from utilization of funds within the territory of the ROC shall be subject to taxation or exemptions as specified in the Income Tax Act.

Sales revenue from offshore insurance business operated by offshore insurance branches shall be exempt from business tax. However, sales revenue generated from utilization of funds within the territory of the ROC shall be subject to taxation or exemption as specified in the Value-Added and Non-Value-Added Business Tax Act.

All types of certificates used in offshore insurance business operated by offshore insurance branches shall be exempt from stamp tax. However, certificates issued in connection with utilization of funds within the territory of the R.O.C shall be subject to taxation or exemption as specified in the Stamp Tax Act.

Insurance benefits, interest generated on investment objects linked to investment-type insurance contracts or income derived from structured product transactions paid by offshore insurance branches to natural persons, juristic persons, government agencies or financial institutions outside the territory of the ROC in connection with their offshore insurance business shall be exempt from income tax withholding.

The exemptions from business income tax, business tax, stamp tax, and income tax withholding under the preceding four paragraphs shall be in force for a period of 10 years from the effective date of this Article. However for insurance contracts entered during the aforementioned period, the exemption period shall not exceed 30 years from the time the contract is entered to the time the effective period of the contract expires.

The scope of fund utilization within the territory of the ROC mentioned in the proviso of paragraphs 1 to 3 hereof shall be set by the FSC in consultation with the Ministry of Finance.

Article 22-17

Articles 8, 10, 18 to 20, and 21-1 shall apply mutatis mutandis to offshore insurance business operated by offshore insurance branches.

Article 22-18

If an offshore insurance branch commits any of the following acts, the competent authorities shall order the branch to take corrective action within a specified time period, or in addition thereto, impose a fine not less than Nine Hundred Thousand New Taiwan Dollars (NT$900,000) but not more than Forty Million and Fifty Hundred Thousand New Taiwan Dollars (NT$4,500,000); where the offense is deemed severe, or the branch fails to take corrective action during the time period set out by the competent authorities, the competent authorities may restrict the scope of its business or fund utilization, order the suspension of sale of insurance products or restrict the offering of new insurance products, or order it to dismiss its manager or employee, or void or revoke its business license:

1. Conducting any business other than that specified in Article 22-13.
2. Violating provisions of the regulations adopted under Article 22-15, paragraph 2 concerning finances, businesses, utilization of funds, and risk management.
3. Violating Article 8 applied mutatis mutandis under the preceding Article.

Article 22-19

An offshore insurance branch that fails to file with the competent authorities for recordation, or to provide its business or financial information or other reports, or to report to the FSC for approval and notify the CBC under Article 20 or 21-1 as applied mutatis mutandis under Article 22-17, shall be subject to a fine of not less than Six Hundred Thousand New Taiwan Dollars (NT$600,000) but not more than Three Million New Taiwan Dollars (NT$3,000,000).

In addition to imposing an administrative fine under the preceding paragraph, the competent authorities shall also order the branch to become compliant within a specified time period; where the branch fails to become compliant within the specified time period, the competent authorities may order a new period for compliance and impose additional fines of not less than One Million and Two Hundred Thousand New Taiwan Dollars (NT$1,200,000) but not more than Six Million New Taiwan Dollars (NT$6 million) for each successive failure to comply until corrective action has been taken.

Article 22-20

When the competent authority dispatches officers or mandates appropriate institutions or experienced professionals to inspect the business and financial conditions of an offshore insurance branch, or order an offshore insurance branch to report its business conditions within a specified time limit, a fine of not less than One Million and Eight Hundred Thousand New Taiwan Dollars (NT$1,800,000) but not more than Nine Million New Taiwan Dollars (NT$9,000,000) will be imposed if an responsible person or employee of the insurance branch has any of the following situations:

1. Refusing to allow inspection or to open the vault or other storage rooms.
2. Concealing or destroying account books or documents related to the business or financial conditions of the insurance branch.
3. Refusing to respond to, or making false representation in response to the queries of inspector without cause.
4. Missing the deadline for submission of financial reports, property list, or other related information and reports, or making false or incomplete representations, or missing the deadline for payment of inspection fees.

Chapter 4 Supplementary Provisions

Article 23 The enforcement rules of this Act shall be prescribed by the competent authorities.

Article 24 Unless otherwise provided, this Act shall come into force from the date of promulgation.
