A company that is controlled by another company. 2. Equity investment: Refers to holdings of total issued voting shares or authorized capital in an investee company not in excess of 50 percent, where there is no ability to control the investee. 3. Mainland-area securities or futures institution: A securities company, securities investment fund management company, or futures company that is incorporated and registered in accordance with the laws of the Mainland Area and subject to the supervision of the Mainland Area's competent authorities for futures and securities, but not including what are referred to in the Mainland Area as foreign-invested securities firms, securities investment fund management companies, or futures companies.

4. Mainland-invested securities or futures institution: Refers to a securities company, securities investment fund management company, or futures company that is incorporated and registered in accordance with the laws of a third region and subject to the supervision of the third region's competent authorities for futures and securities, and that is under one of the following circumstances:

A. More than 30 percent of the total issued voting shares or authorized capital is directly or indirectly held by a natural person, juristic person, group, or other institution of the Mainland Area.

B. A natural person, juristic person, group, or other institution of the Mainland Area has the ability to control the company.

Article 4

A Taiwan-area securities or futures institution shall report to the competent authority for permission in accordance with these Regulations for the following matters:

1. Business dealings between the Taiwan-area securities or futures institution or a branch unit it establishes in a third region and a natural person, juristic person, group, or other institution of the Mainland Area, or a third-region branch unit established by one of those entities.

2. Establishment of a representative office in the Mainland Area by the Taiwan-area securities or futures institution or its third-region subsidiary.

3. Investment in a Mainland-area securities company, securities investment fund management company, or futures company by the Taiwan-area securities or futures institution or its third-region subsidiary.

A Taiwan-area securities or futures institution making an application pursuant to subparagraph 3 of the preceding paragraph shall additionally apply to the Ministry of Economic Affairs for permission in accordance with the provisions of the Act .

A Mainland-area securities or futures institution or a Mainland-invested securities or futures institution applying to establish a representative office in the Taiwan Area or to invest in a securities firm, securities investment trust enterprise (SITE), or futures commission merchant (FCM) in the Taiwan Area shall report to the competent authority for permission in accordance with these Regulations, and in addition shall apply to the Ministry of Economic Affairs for permission in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

The number of the Taiwan-area securities or futures institutions in which a single Mainland-area securities or futures institution or a Mainland-invested securities or futures institution may invest shall be limited to one only, and from among the Mainland-area securities or futures institution or its Mainland-invested securities or futures institutions, one entity shall be selected to make the investment.

Article 5

When a Taiwan-area securities or futures institution or its third-region subsidiary receives permission pursuant to the preceding article to invest in a Mainland-area securities company, securities investment fund management company, or futures company, the total amount invested may not exceed 40 percent of the net worth of the Taiwan-area securities or futures institution.

Article 6

When, in an application by a Taiwan-area securities or futures institution, a Mainland-area securities or futures institution, or a Mainland-invested securities or futures institution pursuant to these Regulations, facts are present that indicate the likelihood of impairment to the sound management of the institution or its incapacity to meet the requirements of financial supervision, the competent authority may deny permission for the application, or if already permitted, may revoke the permission. Following the permission of an application under the preceding paragraph, the competent authority may void the permission upon discovery of any misrepresentation contained in the application, the matters reported therein, or the attached documents.

Chapter II Business Dealings

Article 7

With the permission of the competent authority, Taiwan-area securities and futures institutions and their branches in a third region, with the exception of third-region subsidiaries, may engage in the following business transactions with natural persons, juristic persons, organizations, and other institutions of the Mainland Area or their branches in a third region:

1. Shareholder services for stocks of Taiwan issuers that are held by persons in the Mainland Area due to succession or bequest.
2. The sale of stocks of Taiwan issuers that are held by persons in the Mainland Area due to succession or bequest.

Article 8

With the permission of the competent authority, and in accordance with the types of securities and futures business permitted by law and regulation in the home country of their location, the third-region subsidiaries of Taiwan-area securities or futures institutions may engage in securities and futures transactions with the natural persons, juristic persons, organizations, or other institutions of the Mainland Area or branches established by them in a third region.

Article 9

When a Taiwan-area securities and futures institution engages in the business of the two preceding articles, with the exception of Article 7, paragraph 6, its head office shall apply to the competent authority for permission, stating the types of business and business counterparties, and submitting the following documents:

1. The name and address of the branches, and the name and domicile of the responsible persons.
2. The types of business for which the local governments of such branches outside of the Taiwan Area has granted prior approval for the branch unit to operate.
3. A written statement of the business and financial conditions of such branches.
4. A business plan, containing a business development plan, detailed business items, and estimated balance sheets and income statements for the coming 3 years.

Article 10

After reporting to and receiving approval from the Executive Yuan, the competent authority may restrict or prohibit business transactions undertaken pursuant to these Regulations when necessary to maintain the stability of the domestic securities and futures markets.

Article 11

A Taiwan-area securities and futures institution and any of its third-region subsidiaries that engage in business in accordance with these Regulations shall report the status of the business to its head office within 15 days after the end of each quarter, and the head office shall compile the information and forward it to the competent authority for recording.

Chapter III Establishment of Branch Units and Equity Investment in the Mainland Area

Section I Representative Offices

Article 12

A Taiwan-area securities firm, SITE, securities investment consulting enterprise (SICE), or futures enterprise that meets the conditions of each of the following subparagraphs may apply to the competent authority for permission to establish a representative office in the Mainland Area or to establish such a representative office through a third-region subsidiary:

1. It has been established for a period of 3 full years.
2. Its CPA attested or reviewed financial report for the most recent period shows a net worth per share no lower than par value.
3. It has not during the preceding half year received any disposition pursuant to Article 66, subparagraphs 2 through 4 of the Securities and Exchange Act, Article 103, subparagraphs 1 through 5 of the Securities Investment Trust and Consulting Act, or Article 100, subparagraphs 2 through 4 of the Futures Trading Act, or, it has received such a disposition but the circumstances of its violation have been materially improved and have been recognized by the competent authority..

The representatives of the preceding paragraph shall possess good moral character and integrity along with professional and leadership ability, and shall be free of any of the circumstances set out in Article 53 of the Securities and Exchange Act, Article 68 of the Securities Investment Trust and Consulting Act, and Article 28 of the Futures Trading Act.

A securities or futures institution of paragraph 1 that applies for permission shall attach the following documents:

1. An application form.
2. A work plan.
3. Minutes of the relevant meeting of the board of directors;
4. A financial report for the preceding year.
5. Documentation showing that the qualifications of the planned representatives conform to the provisions of the preceding paragraph.
6. Other materials or documents, as required by the competent authority.

Article 13

The representative office under paragraph 1 of the preceding article may engage in the following types of business, and shall comply with the regulations of the Mainland Area:

1. Investigation of securities and futures related business conditions;

Article 14

The Taiwan-area securities or futures institution or third-region subsidiary of Article 12, paragraph 1 may make an application with the Mainland Area to establish a representative office only after receiving permission from the competent authority. When there is a change of its planned representative, it shall additionally annex documentation, and report to the competent authority for permission, regarding the representative's compliance with the provisions of Article 12; if the location of the planned representative office is changed, it shall annex relevant information for submission to and recording by the competent authority.

The Taiwan-area securities or futures institution or third-region subsidiary of the preceding paragraph, after receiving permission from the Mainland Area's competent authority for securities and futures, shall immediately report the fact to the competent authority, and prior to establishment of the representative office, shall annex the following information for submission to and recordation by the competent authority:

1. The letter of approval from the Mainland Area's competent securities and futures authority.
2. The planned date of establishment of the representative office and its full address.
3. The names of its representatives.

Article 15

The Taiwan-area securities or futures institution or third-region subsidiary of Article 12, paragraph 1, after establishing a representative office in the Mainland Area, shall comply with the following provisions:

1. Any occurrence of a major contingent event or fraudulent practice at a representative office shall be handled and reported in accordance with the regulations of the competent authority.
2. Full and accurately updates shall be provided for any change in relevant information on the representative office reported through the competent authority's designated information reporting website.
3. Prior to a change in representatives, documentation of a new representative's compliance with the provisions of Article 12 shall be submitted to the competent authority for permission.
4. A change in the representative office's location shall be reported in advance to the competent authority for recordation.

If the representative office of the preceding paragraph is to be closed, the closing shall be reported to the competent authority for permission prior to making any application for its closure in the Mainland Area, and when permission is granted by the competent securities and futures authority of the Mainland Area, it shall be immediately reported to the competent authority. Prior to closing a representative office, the Taiwan-area securities or futures institution shall submit the letter of approval from the Mainland Area's competent securities and futures authority and the planned date of closing to the competent authority for recordation.

Section II Equity Investment

6. Equity investment agreement documents: To include documentary evidence of the ability to obtain investee company financial and operational information and to carry out the strategic objectives of investment.
7. Other data or documents to be submitted pursuant to regulations of the competent authority.

Article 20

A Taiwan-area securities firm or a third-region subsidiary may only submit an application in the Mainland Area for equity investment after receiving permission from the competent authority pursuant to Article 16. When there is a change in the planned investment amount or shareholding ratio, it shall submit the relevant information and report to the competent authority for permission.

The Taiwan-area securities firm, after receiving permission from the Mainland Area's competent authority for securities and futures, shall immediately notify the competent authority, and shall submit the following information to the competent authority for recordation:

1. The letter of approval from the competent securities and futures authority of the Mainland Area.
2. The amount of investment, the subject investee company, and its shareholder structure.

When a Taiwan-area securities firm or a third-region subsidiary makes a transfer of its equity holdings in a Mainland-area securities or futures institution, the Taiwan-area securities firm shall submit the relevant information to the competent authority for recordation prior to the transfer.

Article 21

When a Taiwan-area securities firm or a third-region subsidiary increases the amount of its equity investment in a Mainland-area securities or futures institution, the Taiwan-area securities firm shall submit required documentation and apply to the competent authority for permission in accordance with Article 19.

Article 22

When any of the following circumstances apply to a Mainland-area securities or futures institution in which a Taiwan-area securities firm or third-region subsidiary has made equity investment, the Taiwan-area securities firm shall report the reasons to the competent authority along with relevant documentation:

1. A change in principal areas of business or operating policies.
2. A change in the original shareholding ratio of the Taiwan-area securities firm or its third-region subsidiary.
3. Any material re-investment.
4. Dissolution or suspension of operations.
5. A change in the institution's name.
6. A merger with, or assignment of all or a major part of assets or business to or from, another financial institution.
7. A reorganization, liquidation, or bankruptcy.
8. The occurrence or foreseeable occurrence of material losses.
9. An instance of material violation of the law or the voidance or revocation of the business permission by the Mainland Area's competent authority for securities and futures.
10. Other matters of a material nature.

The circumstances under subparagraphs 1 to 7 of the preceding paragraph shall be reported to the competent authority in advance. The circumstances under subparagraphs 8 to 10 shall be reported within 3 business days from the day on which the Taiwan-area securities firm becomes aware of the circumstance or on which the circumstance occurs.

Article 23

When a Taiwan-area securities firm or third-region subsidiary has made equity investment after receiving permission from the competent authority, it shall undertake the following matters except when otherwise provided by the competent authority:

1. Submission to the competent authority, within 15 days after the end of each quarter, of an operations report on the Mainland-area securities or futures institution (to include status of operations, revenues and expenditures, and a benefit assessment).
2. Submission, along with the monthly accounting summary, of a report on the operational status of the Mainland-area securities or futures institution.
3. Reporting of basic company information on the Mainland-area securities or futures institution through the competent authority's designated information-reporting system.
4. Other information or documentation to be submitted pursuant to the regulations of the competent authority.

Article 24

The provisions of Articles 19 through the preceding article apply mutatis mutandis to SITEs and FCMs.

Section II-1 Subsidiaries

Article 24-1

A Taiwan-area securities firm that meets the conditions of each of the following subparagraphs may apply to the competent authority for permission for investment by the Taiwan-area securities firm or its third-region subsidiary in a securities subsidiary, securities investment fund management subsidiary, or futures subsidiary in the Mainland Area:

5. A list of domestic and foreign investee enterprises as of the date of application.

6. Investment agreement documents: content shall include documentary evidence of the ability to obtain financial and operational information of the subsidiary and to carry out the strategic purposes of the investment.

7. Provisions for internal control and internal audit systems, operational management, and performance appraisal of the Mainland-area subsidiary.

8. Intended list of directors and supervisors and their academic qualifications and professional experience.

9. Other information or documents required to be submitted pursuant to regulations of the competent authority.

Article 24-5

A Taiwan-area securities firm may submit an application in the Mainland Area for investment in a securities or futures institution subsidiary only after receiving permission from the competent authority. When there is any change in the planned location, capitalization, or amount of investment in the securities or futures institution subsidiary, it shall submit the relevant information and report to the competent authority for permission. The Taiwan-area securities firm, after receiving permission from the competent Mainland-area authority for securities and futures, shall immediately notify the competent authority, and submit the following information to the competent authority for recordation before the securities or futures institution subsidiary commences business:

1. The letter of approval from the competent Mainland-area securities and futures authority.

2. The business items that the competent Mainland-area securities and futures authority has approved for operation.

3. The amount of investment, the subject investee company, and its shareholder structure.

4. The planned date of commencement of business and detailed address.

5. List of names of the managerial personnel of the Mainland-area securities or futures institution subsidiary at and above the rank of assistant general manager.

6. List of the directors and supervisors of the Mainland-area securities or futures institution subsidiary.

7. Other information or documents required to be submitted pursuant to regulations of the competent authority.

If a Taiwan-area securities firm establishes a subsidiary by means of investing in an existing Mainland-area securities or futures institution, it shall, after obtaining the permission from the competent Mainland-area securities and futures authority, immediately report it to the competent authority, and submit the information in subparagraphs 1, 3, and 5 to 7 of the preceding paragraph to the competent authority for recordation.

If a Taiwan-area securities firm will close its Mainland-area securities or futures institution subsidiary, it shall report the intended closure to the competent authority for permission prior to making any application for the closure in the Mainland Area, and after permission is granted by the competent Mainland-area securities and futures authority, the Taiwan-area securities firm shall immediately report it to the competent authority.

Before closing the securities or futures institution subsidiary, the Taiwan-area securities firm shall submit the letter of approval from the competent Mainland-area securities and futures authority and the planned date of closure to the competent authority for recordation.

Article 24-6

After a Taiwan-area securities firm or its third-region subsidiary has invested in a Mainland-area securities or futures institution subsidiary in the Mainland Area, provided that the Taiwan-area securities firm has not received any material disposition or sanction, or has received a material disposition or sanction but the circumstances of its violation have been concretely improved and the improvement has been recognized by the competent authority, the Taiwan-area securities firm may apply to the competent authority for permission to additionally establish branch offices of that Mainland-area securities or futures institution subsidiary. To additionally establish a branch office of a Mainland-area securities or futures institution subsidiary, a Taiwan-area securities firm shall apply to the competent authority for permission and submit the following documents:

1. An application form.
2. A business plan.
3. Minutes of the relevant directors meeting.
4. The Mainland-area securities or futures institution subsidiary's financial report for the most recent period, audited by a CPA, and its regulatory compliance status.
5. Provisions for internal control and internal audit systems, operational management, and performance appraisal of the Mainland-area securities or futures institution subsidiary.
6. Other information or documents required to be submitted pursuant to regulations of the competent authority.

Article 24-7

Only after a Taiwan-area securities firm has received permission from the competent authority may its Mainland-area securities or futures institution subsidiary firm submit an application in the Mainland Area for establishment of a branch office. After permission is received from the competent Mainland-area securities and futures authority, the Taiwan-area securities firm shall immediately report to the competent authority. The same shall apply in the event of any closure of a branch office.

The Taiwan-area securities firm, after receiving permission from the competent Mainland-area securities and futures authority, shall immediately notify the competent authority, and submit the following information to the competent authority for recordation before the branch office of the securities or futures institution subsidiary commences business:

1. The letter of approval from the competent Mainland-area securities and futures authority.

- If the securities or futures institution of the preceding paragraph receives permission, its representative office in the Taiwan Area shall be managed in accordance with the provisions of these Regulations, and it may not apply for the establishment of any additional representative office. If the application of paragraph 1 is not permitted by the competent authority, the competent authority shall void or revoke the permission for establishment of a representative office in the Taiwan Area by the securities or futures institution.

Article 47

When the equity ownership structure of a third-region juristic person, group, or other institution that has invested in a Taiwan-area securities or futures institution undergoes change with the result that a natural person, juristic person, group, or other institution of the Mainland Area or its overseas branch unit holds more than 30 percent of the total issued voting shares or authorized capital of the given third-region juristic person, group, or other institution, or has the ability to control the given third-region juristic person, group, or other institution, the Taiwan-area securities or futures institution shall submit an application, with relevant documentation, to the competent authority for permission. If the application of the preceding paragraph is not permitted by the competent authority, the competent authority may void or revoke the permission for investment by the third-region juristic person, group, or other institution.

If the application of paragraph 1 is permitted by the competent authority, and a person appointed by the given third-region juristic person, group, or other institution to serve as director at the investee Taiwan-area securities or futures institution is a Mainland natural person, the Taiwan-area securities or futures institution shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of Article 39, paragraph 1.

The investee Taiwan-area securities or futures institution of paragraph 1 shall enter basic information on the status of shareholdings of the natural person, juristic person, group, or other institution of the Mainland Area, or its overseas branch unit, with respect to the given third-region juristic person, group, or other institution into the information reporting system designated by the competent authority, and shall provide an accurate update when there is any change in the information.

Article 48

The format of the documents required under these Regulations will be prescribed by the competent authority.

Article 49

If the items to be set out in documents required under these Regulations are incomplete or insufficient, the competent authority may reject the application; if the required information can be supplemented but has not been supplemented by a deadline set by the competent authority, the application will be rejected.

Article 50

These Regulations shall enter into force from the date of issuance.
